Pacific Challenge

Since its inception in 1985, Pacific Challenge has been operating safely and successfully taking over 2000 students, graduates, and faculty on our unique experiential travel programs. During this period, it has earned the respect of numerous universities and outdoor administrators from around the world. We offer unique programs carefully blending adventure, personal development, eco-tourism ideals, cultural immersion and of fun! Combine this with university credits and you have an unbeatable travel study experience.

Credit

During your time with this program, you are introduced to a wealth of information regarding the cultures, history and environments of Australia and New Zealand. Numerous geographical excursions, incidental learning experiences, and in-house study sessions contribute to the educational structure of the program.

For those students who would like to enhance this educational opportunity with academic credit, upper division university credits are attainable. Lower division credits can also be provided. Interested participants should indicate this on their registration form. Please note that credit is optional and incidental to this amazing adventure travel experience.

Details

All accommodation, a multitude of adventure activities, most food and round-trip travel from Los Angeles is included.

Each group has 18-19 participants and two leaders. We find this the optimal size for the development of supportive group dynamics, environmentally sound travel and an overall enriching experience for each participant.

Spots fill quickly and it is first-come, first serve!

Leadership & Program Aspects

Program Leaders

We've selected a dynamic team of supportive, resourceful, experienced and highly organized people to lead our trips. They understand the importance of balancing the needs of individuals with group objectives, facilitating a high level of group cohesion, inspiring a genuine appreciation for the areas visited, and a keen awareness of minimum impact travel ethics. They take every opportunity to give you the time of your life!

All our leaders are trained in wilderness or remote travel first aid, outdoor leadership, group facilitation and risk assessment/ management.

Pacific Challenge and Experiential Education

We encourage participants not only to learn the intricacies of rock climbing, backpacking, and a host of other practical outdoor skills, but also encourage group development, conflict resolution, confidence, decision making, and sensitivity to the needs of others. This is achieved by creating a climate of trust conducive to group and self-reflection, giving students input into group tasks, facilitating feedback sessions and tailoring activities to challenge participants at their own level. Pacific Challenge programs span an ideal middle ground. We take the best elements of the adventure/challenge and personal growth opportunities found in Outward Bound and N.O.L.S. style courses, and use these alongside relevant college classes to create a valuable, rewarding and unique international educational experience.

Level of Activities

No prior experience is necessary. All activities and instruction are aimed at the novice level. However, for those experienced in particular skills, opportunities for challenge at your level are facilitated.

Group Size

You travel with 18-19 other participants and two leaders. We've found this to be the optimal size for the development of supportive group dynamics, minimum impact travel, effective planning and safety. We are often in smaller groups for some activities.

Accommodation

Accommodation is diverse, comfortable and carefully chosen to fit our needs, this includes camping, comfortable youth hostels, luxury apartments, lodges, outdoor centers and indigenous dwellings.

Food

Whether a picnic, BBQ or birthday celebration, meals are fresh, tasty, healthy and varied. Food preparation is a fun social highlight shared by all participants. We happily cater for vegetarians. All breakfasts and dinners are provided, except on the 8 free days, where breakfast is provided but not the evening meal. Instead we have an 'Independent dinner' giving you the chance to sample your choice of the fine local cuisine. Lunches and snacks are provided.

Transport

New Zealand—12 seater vans and trailers

Australia—21 seater bus and trailer

Keeping in Touch

There is internet access in every town we visit and cost is between $2-3 per hour. Low cost telephone cards are readily available in New Zealand and Australia, and are more economical than bringing US based phone cards (which often don't work). Phone calls cost around $.5 per minute.

We have three mail collection points for each group. The addresses and dates we receive mail at will be posted on the website at a later time. Skype is becoming a popular way to keep in touch. Go to www.skype.com for details.

Free Days

During the trip, we have allotted 8 free days, reasonably spaced (approximately one per week), in towns or cities where there are sufficient facilities to allow you to catch up on personal needs, laundry, resting, emails and coursework.

Climate

December, January, February and March are the best months to visit New Zealand and Australia, because of their beautiful summer conditions.

New Zealand Dec-Feb temperature:

Daytime average 70-90F

Nighttime average 55-65F

Sunrise 6:00am; Sunset 9:00pm

Australia Jan-March temperature:

Daytime average 80-95F

Nighttime average 70F

Sunrise 5:30am; Sunset 8:00pm

Credits & Extensions

Credit Opportunities

Academic credit is an optional, but an integral component of this program based on the philosophy that 'real world' educational opportunities are often a far more effective way of learning than following a conventional classroom routine.

Credit earned during the program consists of a carefully designed interdisciplinary subject base, carrying up to 15 upper division university semester credit hours and 3 lower division one credit classes or the equivalent in quarter hour credits. This is offered in conjunction with Winona State University (WSU) Winona, Minnesota, and grades are transferable to most universities in the US.

Study interests include coursework in Environmental Studies; Group Dynamics; International Tourism;

Cultural Comparisons; Eco-Tourism; and Outdoor Leadership. For course outlines and credit options refer to pacificchallenge.org and click on "College Credits".

A full class syllabus will be distributed to students and may be viewed on our website by October each year. Additionally, registered participants who indicate their interest in taking classes on the registration form will be sent the full class enrollment packet (with syllabi and costs) by Winona State University. For questions regarding WSU class syllabi and costs, please contact Dr. Lorene Olson; lolson@winona.edu. Other credit queries should be directed to our grad assistants at intern@pacificchallenge.org.

Class facilitation is as follows:

Pre-Trip: Academic meeting; assigned readings; preparation research/questions.

During the Trip: Research; journaling; study sessions & discussions; seminars; test.

Post-Trip: Completion of coursework; presentations; and report submissions.

It is the responsibility of each student taking credit to develop their own work schedules throughout the program. You will have access to internet facilities and libraries to complete research requirements.

Please note: As academic credit is optional, tuition costs are additional to the cost of the program.

Extension Activities:

At the conclusion of the set program, students have the option to continue their adventures. Typical extensions would include a combination of the following options. Group leaders will provide more detailed information about these extensions. Itineraries will be made available closer to trip departure.

1. Travel north to the Great Barrier Reef and Great Keppel Island. Scuba diving, snorkeling, and fishing on this wonderful tropical island. One of the more popular options.
2. Travel south to the beautiful island of Tasmania. More of New Zealand-like scenery and activities await you here.
3. Travel west to the sunny city of Perth in Western Australia. In this San-Diego-like climate, students can visit wineries, go scuba diving and hike through the beautiful Kari Forests of the South-West region.
4. Travel inland to the 'real outback' of Australia, visiting Ayres Rock and Alice Springs. The home of the Australian Aboriginal.
5. Perhaps even return to New Zealand, the splendors of which you have already sampled, to do even more adventure activities.
6. Many more ideas abound!

Travel Notes

Flights and Airtickets

Participants will be notified in early December with their confirmed group placement and flight arrangements. Check the pre-trip portion of our website often for updated information.

The program cost includes international flights, from and returning to Los Angeles, and travel, during the program, throughout and to New Zealand and Australia. Participants are issued with standard group departure and return dates applicable to their group.

Air tickets are valid for 3 months, so you may extend your time down under after the program conclusion.

Date changes to your return date can be made, once you commence travel, subject to seat availability. Date changes must be arranged by you through the airline, and will incur a fee of approx. $150, fees are subject to change based on airline discretion.

Additionally, on the flight home participants typically have the option to arrange a layover, in Fiji for example, subject to seat availability. This must be arranged by you through the airline after you have commenced travel and will incur a fee for date and routing changes.

Although we prefer you to travel with the group, you may arrange your own airline tickets if you notify Pacific Challenge well in advance. This will reduce your final payment.

Pacific Challenge does not arrange or cover the cost of date and/or routing changes to your ticket. These are your responsibility.

Travel Insurance

If you take WSU credits on the program, you will automatically be charged for travel insurance. This costs around $250. If you don't take classes through WSU, Pacific Challenge strongly recommends you take out a travel insurance policy unless you are fully covered for overseas travel by an existing insurance policy. Travel insurance is available from most travel agents and insurance brokers, and usually includes the cover of curtailment or cancellation of travel, medical expenses, loss or theft of personal belongings, and personal liability (approx. cost $250 for 2 months). For more information please refer to the pre-trip info site which we update throughout the fall semester.

Passport and Visas

Travel to Australia and New Zealand requires minimal immigration documentation but please read the following information carefully.

A passport is necessary. If you don't already have one, this should be attended to as soon as possible. Passport application forms are available at either your central post office or county courthouse. You will be required to submit 2 passport size photographs, your birth Certificate and proof of identity (e.g. driver's license). The fee is approx. $150. Your passport is valid for 10 years. Hopefully our program will inspire you to further travel, putting your passport to good use.

If you already hold a passport, please ensure it will not expire before August 2012, or you will need to get a new one issued.

US passport holders do not need a visa to enter New Zealand and your program leaders organize Australian visas for you. Should you wish to stay longer than three months, for work or travel, special visa arrangements need to be made. These are your responsibility.

Refer to the pre-trip info site for more flight, insurance and extension information. This site contains the most up-to-date information. www.pacificchallenge.org

Spending Money

People often enquire about the amount of spending money to bring. It is difficult to assess an exact amount. In past years, participants have spent somewhere between $1000-$3000. We would suggest the desired amount is somewhere between these figures. Spending money typically goes towards e-mail, laundry, lunches, snacks, independent dinners, optional activities, souvenirs and evening entertainment. Self-discipline is obviously required with personal funds if budgets are tight.

Spending money is best carried on credit and debit cards. Please check with your bank that your credit/debit cards can be used in ATM machines in other countries. You will need a pin number to make withdrawals from machines. You may also be able to make over-the-counter (non-pin) cash advances on your credit card at banks. Bring at least two cards, in case you lose one. Replacement is very difficult.

It is also recommended that you call your credit card company to let them know you will be using your card overseas. Some companies will put a hold on your card if there is suspicious activity.

We suggest keeping your cash to a minimum because it can be lost easily, and exchange rates change as you travel leaving the possibility for a better rate later on.

Equipment and Clothing List

The secret to enjoyable travel is traveling light. Keep non-essential clothing and equipment to a minimum. Meetings will be held in the fall to discuss gear in more detail. # Liability Waiver Form

It is very important for the success of the program and your personal enjoyment during the trip that you read and understand the following: This is a release of liability and assumption of risk form. Please read carefully, sign, and return this together with our medical information form, to Pacific Challenge with your second payment, no later than November 1st.

This form is not designed to intimidate participants, merely to help relieve the pressure on programs like these when confronting the serious liability issues. It should be noted that this program has been running for a number of years successfully and safely. It has been very carefully designed to cater for an adventurous spirit; it is not for hardcore high risk takers. The program leaders are all trained in first aid and experienced in outdoor and group leadership. Leaders will take all reasonable care during the execution and supervision of each activity. Please also note that this program is not covered under university insurance and the program director carries only basic public liability coverage.

It is strongly recommended that all participants take out a travel insurance policy, to cover the possibility of lost luggage, theft, accidental or incidental sickness, travel curtailment and cancellation. Health care in Australia and New Zealand is of high quality and is offered relatively inexpensively to foreign travelers. The bottom line is to expect a pleasantly adventurous, safe and enjoyable look at Australia and New Zealand with leaders who will take all reasonable care.

Release of Liability and Assumption of Risk Agreement

I am aware that during the trip in which I am participating under the arrangements of the organizers and their employees, agents, associates, and contractors, I may be subjecting myself to risks, dangers, and hazards which could result in losses, illness, injury or death. I recognize that such risk, dangers, and hazards may be present at any time during the trip.

In consideration for and as part payment for the right to participate in the trip and the associated activities and services arranged by the organizers and their employees, agents, associates and contractors, I do hereby fully assume all risks of losses, illness, injury and death and, further, I do hereby release and discharge the organizers for any and all losses, damage, illness or injury resulting from my participation in the trip and the associated activities and services.

As well, I agree that I will not sue the organizers, their employees, agents, associates or contractors for any losses or damages incurred as a consequence of my participation in the trip and the associated activities and services caused by the negligent or other acts of the organizers and their employees, agents, associates or contractors.

I agree that the above obligations shall be binding upon me personally, as well as upon my heirs, executors, administrators, and all members of my family.

I have carefully read this agreement and fully understand its contents. I am aware that this is a release of liability and an assumption of risk agreement between me and the organizers and their employees, agents, associates and contractors. I sign this agreement of my own free will, after having been advised that I am free to obtain independent advice on it.
